

A young child, seen from behind, is walking away on a snowy path. The child is wearing a bright red quilted jacket, blue jeans, and a red and blue plaid hat with a fur trim. They are carrying a large red heart-shaped gift box with a white ribbon bow. The child's shadow is cast on the snow to their left. In the background, there are snow-covered trees and a white fence. The overall scene is bright and cheerful, suggesting a winter day.
